

Atlantic Studies Symposium
Sponsored by FIU Department of History and FIU's Department of History Graduate Student Association

Octavio Ruiz-Manjón,
Full Professor of Contemporary History at Universidad Complutense de Madrid.

“A Triangular Exchange of Ideas: Spain, the USA, and Latin America in the Twentieth Century”

Dr. Ruiz-Manjón is author or editor of some books, among them “El Partido Republicano Radical (1908-1936)” (1976), “Los nuevos historiadores ante la guerra civil española”, “Los significados del 98. La sociedad española en la génesis del siglo XX” and “Fernando de los Rios. Un intelectual en el PSOE” (2007). His main fields of research are intellectual history, electoral studies, political biographies and Spanish republicanism and socialism.

November 17th, 3-5:00 pm
in Frost Museum, room 105

This event is open to all FIU students.
Funding is provided by CSO.

